HOW YOUR BEQUEST WILL BE USED TO

HELP PEOPLE LIVING WITH DEMENTIA

YOUR WILL:

The making of a Will is an important part of your planning; it gives you peace of mind to know that you have looked after your loved ones and friends, as well as alleviating the confusion that occurs when one's wishes are unknown.

It is important to make your own decisions about what happens to your assets. To help you leave a Bequest to Caladenia Dementia Care, your solicitor will advise about the wording and legal requirements.

You may decide to leave:

- Property or assets (real estate or shares)
- The residue of your estate (that remaining after you have taken care of family and friends).
- A particular item or items, this could include jewellery, paintings, and items of value.
- A specific sum of money.
- Life Insurance.

The first thing to do when organising your Will is to choose a solicitor or trustee company to prepare your Will.

Your Will is a legal document which will make sure that your assets are distributed in accordance with your wishes. Many people talk about the ways they would like their property to be distributed after death, but never do anything about making a Will.

Established and respected:

Caladenia Dementia Care is a non-profit centre for people living with dementia. Founded in 1983, Caladenia is located in a purpose designed building at Mooroolbark in Melbourne's outer east.

Caladenia plans to extend these services by building an Overnight Respite Center.

Active lifestyle:

Our Day Centre runs five days of dementia-specific programs each week. Services are available to anyone with dementia, from very early stage, or first diagnosis, to separate programs for people with more advanced dementia.

We plan to extend these services to include overnight respite care for our community of people living with dementia.

Peace for carers:

Our programs aim to promote self-esteem for the person living with dementia and to give friends and family members a break, knowing that their loved one is happy, occupied and safe.

The Overnight Respite Centre will extend the services providing peace of mind for carers and clients.

Providing a safe environment:

Caladenia's premises were specially designed for people with dementia. Where members feel a need to "wander", they are encouraged to move about the building and gardens in complete security.

The Overnight Respite Centre will be designed with this in mind extending the safe environment to temporary overnight services.

Familiar surroundings:

Day Centre groups are run from our own Meadowbank House, which is the only purpose built facility for Dementia Specific Day Care in the Shire of Yarra Ranges.

The Overnight Respite Centre will extend the services to the Shire of Yarra Ranges community providing the ONLY overnight facility for people living with dementia
